

Protecting Your Pet from Disaster in an Emergency

To All Pet Owners:

On September 19, 2003, Shinjuku City signed an agreement with the Shinjuku Branch of the Tokyo Veterinary Medical Association on rescue activities to save animals during a disaster.

With consideration for the safety of people and their pets, Shinjuku City is also participating in cooperative discussions with related groups to prepare for disasters.

It is a good idea to discuss such matters and be prepared so that your family and pets can evacuate safely in case disaster strikes.

Shinjuku Public Health Center
Security Affairs Division
Shinjuku Branch, Tokyo Veterinary Medical Association

